Harrison Will Have Two Hundred and Thirty-three Votes in the Electoral College-A Few More Figures.

Brice Finally Gives Up. NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- An extra World Mays that Chairman Brice of the democratic national committee, concedes the election of General Harrison. The World puts California and Indiana in the republican column,

college. In regard to the congressional situation, the extra World says: "As the belated returns from the congressional districts come in the complexion of the next house grows more and more doubtful. The republicans are claiming that the full returns will give them the house. This is improbable, but a distinct possibility. There have been some surprising republican gains. Democratic St. Louis has elected three republican congressmen. The republicans make rpparently well-based claims to three gains in Michigan, but the democrats gain in Virginia. New York's delegation is unchanged as to parties. The fact on the situation is there are enough districts uncertain to turn the house majority either way.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8 .- On Washington and lilinois streets were gathered large crowds shouting and cheering for General Harrison. The crowds were naturally of a hilarious and humorous disposition, it is therefore not to be presumed that any disrespect of the president was intended by the roars of laughter and cheers that greeted a wagon which passed through the streets drawn by a mule. Within was a big coffin. On the top of the coffin sat half a dozen mourners carrying huge boquets in their hands, and, as mourners, acting with a great lack of decorum, for every few minutes their feelings overcame them to such an extheir feelings overcame them to such an ex-tent that they stood up and waved their bo-quets and then sat down and wiped mock tears away with brilliant bandanas. From the head of the coffin hung a picture of Presi-dent Cleveland. The eyes of the picture were black, while below was inscribed, "They done me up bad." As the funeral wagon passed along Pennsylvania avenue it was greated with storms of applause and the was greeted with storms of applause and the blowing of a thousand horns.

Probably no city in the union ever wit. nessed such extraordinary and outlandish scenes of enthusiasm, and chaotic but goodnatured disorder, as prevailed here this afternoon and to-night. Certainly the citi zens of Indianapolis never before saw such sights. The demonstrations that occurred immediately following the news of General Harrison's nomination sink into insignifi cance as compared with the scenes to-day and to-night. Throughout the day, whenever the rain ceased falling, the distant boom of cannon re-echoed the enthusiasm of ten thousand celebrating republicans. About o'clock the rain which had been pouring steadily for flye hours, ceased, and in an incredibly short time the streets were again swarming with yelling, hooting, horn blow-ing thousands, marching back and forth, regardless of the mud and water. Pennsylvania avenue, in front of the post-office and around the New Denison, in one of the big storerooms of which building is located the republican county headquarters, was so crowded that the muddy street was the pedestrians only pathway. On both sides of the avenue, as far down as Washington street, the howling screeching crowd had full possession, while the same condition of affairs prevailed on Washington street for four squares, and also along Illinois street for two squares

All trains arriving in the city since early morning brought hundreds of country people, who were swallowed up by the crowd and soon became imbued with the same wild spirit of enthusiasm, which seemed to attack nd possess everybody, even many It was a regular carnival day. Proba bly the most unique feature was the way in biy the most unique feature was the way in which hats were marked with red and white chalk. On the back of hundreds were the figures 544, the number of votes General Harrison received at Chicago. Others had "New York 11,000" chalked on their backs, while every hat bore some letters or figures. In the New Position and on the street corrects were Denison and on the street corners were half a dozen professional chalkers doing a land office business. Dudish young men would submit to have their garments artis-tically marked with all sorts of humorous characters. This device that afforded the throngs the most amusement was a minia-ture cance, four feet long, carried through the streets by four men. Within the cance sat a small chubby figure bearing a striking resemblance to the late candidate, holding the oars extended. The cards attached suggested a trip up the mythical Sait river, while a hundred men and boys followed, singing, "Good-bye, oh Grover, good-bye."

The celebration was of the most humoreus and impromptu character, and certainly was not designed as a mark of disrespect to President Cleveland, as many southern readers of this account might otherwise suppose. The Associated press correspondent spent several hours on the streets witnessing the demonstration, but did not hear a single expression of personal disrespect toward President Cleveland, and while the devices described were suggestive of a certain breach of pro-priety toward the chief magistrate of our nation, this feeling will be more pronounced with the reader than with the spectator, for the good humor of the crowds and the enthusiasm permeating the very atmosphere offer an lanation that the distant reader canno fully appreciate. As evening came on the factories and stores added their hundreds to the howling, screaming rabble. Between 7 and 8 o'clock the excitement nearly reached the frenzy point. A few buildings were illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the noise of cannon, the anvils, firecrackers and tin horns, which continued until after 9 o'clock, could be plainly heard as far out as General Harrison's residence. The general and his family, except for these distant echoes, were unconscious of the stirring scenes in the

Except for a short walk yesterday and this morning, General Harrison has not left his residence since election day. Just be-fore dark a train load of enthusiasts came in from Dauville. They were mostly members of the first Lincoln league organized in the state. With flags flying, men pushing, singing and shouting, drums, hin horns, brass bands and cannon, all unit-ing to make an indescribable medley, the Harrison residence was reached. As the crowd surged into the yard General Harrison ventured to look out of the south bar window. He was seen immediately and the crowd broke for the window. By this time the spokesman of the delegation. Hen. J. Hull, had been ushered into the library. He said that all they wanted was to tender their congratulations, and that no speech would be asked, and the general accompanied him to the front steps. For a time each member of the club made supreme endeavors to convey his individual congratulation, but finally quiet was restored and Arr. Hall delivered a quiet was restored and Mr. Hall delivered a congratulatory address, saying that "the people after four years of search had found the keystone whose loss has threatened the destruction of the whole fabric of the government, and now the arch is perfect and the people are saved." General Harrison shook hands with a few and then bade them a pleasant "good night" and retired.

From nearly complete returns from all congressional districts, it is claimed that the Indiana delegation in congress will stand, democratic 8, Republican 5.

General Harrison began to receive congratulatory telegrams from New York and the east as early as 9 o'clock election night, gratulatory telegrams from New York and the cast as early as 9 o'clock election night, when the first meagre returns indicated his probable election. From that moment to the present writing, telegrams and letters of congratulation have poured in upon him from every city in the union. The table in his library is piled with bundles of these telegrams, there being fully five thousand. So long as there was a shadow of doubt resting upon the result of the election, General Harrison was not disposed to submit for publication any congratulatory communications. NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. S .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The bulletin board in front of the Mail and Express building was the center of Park Row attractions throughout yesterday. When positive and cheerful news of Indiana's loyalty appeared on the board about 3 o'clock the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no bounds, and three rousing cheers were sent along the line for Colonel Elliott F. Shepard. Several hundred citizens entered the building cheering, and a committee of six, with huge roosters on the crowns of their hats, were then appointed to wait upon Colonel Shepard in his office on the fourth floor and request him to speak a few words to his friends below regarding the great victory. Colonel Shepard descended in the elevator with the committoe, and when he emerged on the ground floor the shouts which greeted him were deafening. Colonel Shepard tried to escape without making a speech, but his admirers would not have it, and he was carried bodily out to the front of the building, where, amid frequent interruptions from the crowd, he delivered a short but pointed speech on the victory of Harrison, Mortion and protection, and the rescue of the nation from free trade.

The Harrison and Morton banner still waves triumphantly in front of the republican national headquarters, but the house where Senator Quay directed his forces to where Senator Quay directed his forces to victory is no longer alive with campaign workers. Colonel Sword, sergeant-at-arms, had charge of the building to-day, and was having the furniture and paraphernalia removed. Colonel Quay was smiling as usual, and said, in reply to a question, that it was true he had won something like $50,000 on General Harrison. Senator Delamater, of Pennsylvania, Chairman Quay's able secretary, said that Mr. Quay would remain in New York until the official count was made, Secretary Fassett is still in the city and will not depart for several days. Assistant Secretary Charles A. Ball, who volunteered to leave his business in Wellesville and assist Senator Fassett, has gone home. He came nearer than any of the prophets here in naming Harrison's plurality in the state.

naming Harrison's plurality in the state.

New York, Nov. 8.—The campaign is at last ended in this city, and things are fast settling down to their normal condition. The various campaign committees have closed their headquarters, with the exception of the their headquarters, with the exception of the republican and democratic national executive committees, and those will probably be abandoned to-day. The national democratic committee now concede for the first time the election of Harrison. They make this statement: "When the national democratic committee columns that the state of New York produced the state of New York p ittee claimed the state of Nev Tuesday evening by 10,000 to 15,000 majority the figures of the returns then received fully justified the estimate. Reports from New York City and from large communities in the interior of the state showed democratic gains, and the first reports from Brooklyn were to the effect that the majority there was 19,000. The telegraph wires were very crowded, and the trans mission of the committee's bulletins to the west were considerably delayed. There is evidently a misapprehension in some parts of the west as to the time at which the dispatch was sent.

The particular dispatch referred to was received in the west from the democratic com-mittee claiming New York by 10,000 to 15,000 majority. When the dispatch arrived out there it was wholly at variance with the re-turns from this state. The democratic committee say it was not intended to deceive any one, and at the hour it was written the bulletins of the New York papers were giving the state to Cleveland by 18,000 plu-

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- An extra edition of the Telegram says: "The house of representatives is remarkably close." The Herald and World agree that the majority is very uncertain either way. The Herald figures a majority of two for the democrats on very incomplete returns. The Star says that reports from 313 out of 325 congressional districts give 165 democrats and 148 republi cads, leaving twelve districts in doubt, with good chances of continued democratic con-trol of the house of representatives. The New York Times figures a democratic ma-jority, while the Philadelphia Times exactly reverses the estimates, giving three to the republican party. McPherson Long, the re-publican clerk of the house of representatives, estimates the republican majority at 17, and the Tribune accepts these figures. The Press reaches the same result.

Democratic losses have exceeded republic can ones apparently, and the democrats have only a leeway of fifteen seats in the present house. While it takes the official count to settle the question, it looks as if the Fifty-first congress would be republican in both to THE BEE.]-Preparations for a great barbecue and ratification meeting to be held here next Saturday are being made by the republicans. Three hundred dollars have so far been raised to defray the expenses, and all neighboring towns have been invited and will probably send large delegations. A big time is expected. All republicans are cordially invited. Atlantic and Correctionville also ratify on Saturday. All northwestern lows has gone wild over Harrison's election.

Corning, Ia., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A certain clivue in this county has procured an affidavit from a man named John West, in which he alleges that Ed H. Hunter paid him $2 for voting a second time Hunter paid him $2 for voting a second time on November 6. West is known here as a worthless vagrant, who has been behind the bars several times for thieving and other misdemeanors, and has no standing whatever in the community and will be impeached by a majority of the reputable business men of this city. Mr. Hunter was informed of the filing of this affidavit, and immediately returned here on the first train, and did not returned here on the first train, and did not go to Chicago, as stated in a special from Des Moines last night, and gave bond for appearance whenever called upon. The whole matters is without merit or foundation, and is condemaed by the better class of our citizens regardless of party affiliation. So far as West is concerned it is considered a blackmailing scheme. When this case comes up for hearing it is thought that an abundance of evidence will be forthcoming to show that he was hired to do this, as he made a statement on the street this morning returned here on the first train, and did not

KANSAS.

TOPERA, Kan., Nov. 8 .- Special Telegram to THE BEE. - The dispatches received by the republican state central committee from every county in the state show that the vic tory achieved by the republicans of Kansas was the grandest in the history of the state. In spite of the desperate fight made by the democrats, and the active opposition of the union labor party and the the third party prohibitionists, the republican candidates have undoubtedly received the largest majorities ever given to a republican candidate in Kansas. Secretary Hutchins, of the republican state central committee, states that from telegrams received from almost every county in the state General Harrison will receive a plurality of 70,000, and Governor Humphrey's plurality will without doubt be 65,000, but the greatest victory was in the election of a legislature which is more unanimously republican than it has ever been before. Up to 9 o'clock the committee had information of the election of only five opposition members of the legislature. In view of the fact that in nearly every county in the state the democrats and labor union party had combined on members of the leg-islature and made a desperate fight to secure an opposition legislature, makes the victory all the more satisfactory. Wyandotte county, which has always been a democratic stronghold, elects the entire republican ticket. Cherokee county, which is another democratic and labor union stronghold, elects the republican county ticket for the first time in its history,

Republicans Claim the State By About

Five Thousand. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.-The count of 41,462 votes in the city out of a total of 55,370 gives Harrison 20,007 and Cleveland 21,455. It is expected that the canvass of the vote of the city will be completed this afternoon. The republican state committee estimates The republican state committee estimates that the democratic plurality in the city will be about five thousand, but contend that outside counties will furnish a republican plurality of 14,000, and that the republican electoral ticket will be elected by 9,000 plurality. The prohibition vote, as far as canvassed, falls below that of 1884. M. H. De Young, chairman of the sub-committee of the national exceptive committee telegraphed to Chairman ecutive committee, telegraphed to Chairman Quay last night that all the Pacific coast states had gone for Harrison, and California particularly, by a rising vote of 8,000. The estimates of the democratic state committee does not vary from the one made yesterday, of a probable plurality of 2,000 to 3,000 in the state. The Examiner editorially claims in the state. The Examiner editorially claims California is still in doubt. The Chronicle says: "We think we are entirely safe in saying that California has gone republican by from four to five thousand.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Late this afternoon the count had been counted in 140 precincts in this city out of a total of 176, and the result is as follows: Cleveland 26,986, Harrison 26.116.

WISCONSIN.

Harrison 26,116.

It Goes Republican by at Least Eighteen Thousand.

MILWAUKER, Nov. 8 .- Returns are coming in slowly, but enough are in to make it certaid that the state has gone for Harrison by at least 18,000, and probably 21,000. Chairman Usher of the democratic committee, concedes the state to the republicans by Blaine's plurality in 1884, which was 14,500. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican, there being a republican majority on joint ballot of over fifty out of a vote of 133. Of the nine congressmen voted for in this state seven are republicans and two democrats. The democrats reclaimed the Second district, which was represented by a republican for the first time in its history, and the republicans have offset this loss by the gain of the Fourth Milwaukee district represented by a union labor congressman.

KENTUCKY.

COVINGTON, Nov. 8 .- A story is in cir culation in here, that Speaker Carlisle is to be deprived of his certificate of election. The ground of this action is the alleged illegality of ballots cast for him in Campbell and Kenton counties. It is assumed that if they are thrown out his mafority in the district will be overcome Kentucky law requires that a ballot shall on plain white paper, with no distinguishing features, but the Carlisle ballots were printed on large sheets of perforated paper, so that when the tickets were torn apart perforations appeared on the edges and made them easily distinguishable from the other tickets. Color is given to the story by the fact that the canvassing board in Camp

Cincinnati, Nov. S.—In regard to the effect of tickets with perforated edges, that were voted for Speaker Carlisle in Covington and Newport, the common opinion of leading republicans and democrats in Cincinnati, as well as in Covington and Newport, is that they are not marked tickets within the meaning of the Kentucky law. Furthermore, it is the general opinion that perforat-ing the sheets on which they were printed, instead of cutting the tickets apart, does not show any intention to make them so that they might be distinguished as the voter handed them to the judge. In any event, if all the tickets thus technically marked were brown out it would not be likely to elect Carlisle's opponent.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, Nov. 8 .- Dispatches just received to-night from the capitol of the state announce that the democratic state treasurer, Thompson, concedes the state to the republicans by from 400 to 700 majority. This is simply a confirmation of the steady republican gains that have been coming in republican gains that have been committee to-day. The republican state committee here claims the state by a much larger majority. They claim to have at least three, and probably a solid delegation of five congressmen. They claim majorities for the electoral ticket and a majority in the legisla-

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 8 .- Harrison's plurality in Michigan will reach 22,000, against 33,000 for Blaine in 1884. The combined greenbackers and union labor vote of last Tuesday will not exceed 6,000. Comparatively few counties have made returns of prohibition vote, but St. John's vote of 18,403 has been reduced nearly one-half. Luce (rep.) for governor, will have a plurality of about 13,500. He was will have a plurality of about 13,500. He was bitterly opposed by the liquor men, and ran behind in all the large cities. There was much scratching and it is impossible to give anything strictly reliable except that the state officers will be democratic.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 .- It will probably require the official canvass to decide whether Cook county, including the city of Chicago, is democratic or republican. According to the figures of the Tribune it gave Harrison a plurality of 407. According to the Inter-Ocean it gave him 790 plurality. The Times Ocean it gave him 790 plurality. The Times and Daily News figure a plurality for Cleveland, the former of 857 and the latter of 564. Chicaco, Nov. 8.—The official returns of St. Clair county, received here to-night, reduce the plurality of Forman (dem.), candidate for congress, 121 votes. His plurality in the county is 229, and not, as reported unofficially last night, 350. This makes the district so close that only the official figures from the remaining counties can tell definitely whether Forman is elected or Jehu Baker (rep.), who beat William R. Morrison, Chicaco, Nov. 8.—The republican state central committee reports that complete recentral committee reports that complete re-turns from ninety counties in Illinois and a careful estimate of the remaining twelve give Fifer, for governor, 13,007 plurality. Harrison's plurality is placed in the neighborhood of 25,000. The Times claims that unofficial returns from ninety-two counties show Fifer's plurality to be 5,274, and Harrison's 19,920.

DELAWARE.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 8 .- The next legislature will probably stand sixteen republicans to fourteen democrats, insuring the election of a republican successor to Senator Salis bury, whose term expires next March.

WHANGTON, Nov. 8.—Cleveland's plurality in the state is 3,443. Congressman Pennington (dem.) is re-elected by over 3,400 plurality. The next legislature will stand: Senate, democrats 7. republicans 2. House, democrats 7, republicans 14, giving the republicans a majority of two on joint

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Nov. 8 .- Official and semi-official returns have been received from 90 of the 114 counties in the state, and with advices from the remaining 24 show that Cleveland's plurality will exceed 25,000. Francis (dem.), for governor, will have a plurality over Kimball (rep.) of about 12,000. The re-publican state committee now concedes the election of Francis, but by a very small plurality. No further changes have occurred in the congressional delegation.

NEVADA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 .- Returns from the state of Nevada, as far as counted, give Harrison 4,443, Cleveland 8,432. For congress the returns as far as counted give Bartine (rep.) 4,105, Cassidy 8,143.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 8 .- Evans (rep.), for congress, is elected by nearly 200 majority.

Rill Regrets Cleveland's Defeat. ALBANY, Nov. 8 .- Governor Hill was serenaded to-night at the executive mansion, and in his address to the thousands of per sons who througed the terraces occurred these utterances: "Our success in the gubernatorial contest, however, is marred by the shadow of national disaster. In common with every true democrat, I greatly regret the defeat of President Cleveland in this state and in the nation. He deserved better at the hands of the people of this country Honest, brave and courageous, he gallantly led his party in the great contest for tariff re-form, and suffers defeat, owing to false ciamor, unjust prejudices, unfair representations and the gigantic and combined efforts of all the monopoles of the country. He did his duty, as he understood it, regardless of personal or political considerations, and he should have been sustained by the tax-payers, consumers and masses of the people, whose true interests he desired to subserve and whose rights he unselfishly endeavored to maintain. It is not necessary or profitable to inquire whether the issue which he so boldly made might not more wisely have been earlier presented or postponed to a later period. It is sufficient to say that as the trusted leader of the democratic party, after a full and careful consideration of the whole subject, he deemed that the best and truest interests of the country required that the issue should be made at this crisis, and with that patriotic and deliberate conclusion, when once reached, there should have been Meeting at Birmingham.

Gladstone Addresses a Big Liberal

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 8 .- Special Cablegram TER BEE] -A great liberal meeting was held in Bingley hall last evening. There was an enormous demand for tickets, two guineas being paid for the best seats, and the whole space left free to the public was crowded three hours before the speaking began. Behind the platform was a shield on which was inscribed: "The Tide Is With With Us." Punctually at 7:30 o'clock Mr. Gladstone, looking hale and hearty, ascended the platform, the audience cheering him enthusustically. He was accompanied by Chairman Oslet, Lords Ripon, Spencer and Roseberry, Sir William Harcourt, Mr. John Morley, and other prominent liberals. Mr. Gladstone, upon rising to speak, was oudly cheered. He said that Lord Hartingon, who, among the opponents of the liberal party, spoke with the greatest weight, had recently said that the home rule question was dead. He (Hartington) had developed a peculiarity hitherto unsuspected. He showed a vivid imagination. [Cheers.] But be would see from these proceedings whether home rule was dead or whether the aid of an undertaker should be invoked to serve the absolute necessities of the other party [Laughter.] The Irish ought not to accuisee in government by unequal laws. They should resent a government which, while professing anxiety to execute the law, man-ifested contempt for it whenever it found the law's action inconvenient. Apart from the imperial necessities Irishmen must be the best judges as to how to deal with local affairs

Mr. Gladstone illustrated at length the in Mr. Gladstone illustrated at length the inequilities in the laws under which the Irish suffer, especially the laws dealing with combinations, public meetings, and the prison treatment of political offenders. Lord Hartington, he said, charged the liberals with the responsibility for the evictions in Ireland. The responsibility in reality belongs to those who refuse to give to the Irish tenant the relief from arrears that had been given to the Highland tenant.

When Mr. Gladstone referred to the two given to the Highland tenant.

When Mr. Gladstone referred to the two wings of the liberal party for the purpose of denouncing the broken pledges of the dissidents, some one in the hall shouted, "One wing has no feathers!" This sally was greeted with much laughter.

Mr. Gladstone went over the old ground of the history of the union, He said that at the close of the last century the Protestants.

the close of the last century the Protestants and Catholics in Ireland joined hands, but the tory wire pullers made it their business to introduce, mainly through Orange lodges to introduce, mainly through Orange lodges, religious animosity and intolerance between them. In conclusion, he asked what the dissidents could look for except speedy extinction. Could they reasonably expect Irishmen, under the present favorable circumstances, to change opinions that had been held for seven centuries! Why persist in such a hopeless buttle new that Irishmed. in such a hopeless battle now that Ireland was fighting not with threats of separation nor Fenianism, but with confidence in a powerful party whose prevocable decision she knew was supported by the affection of England! It would be better to endeavor to promote and consolidate the affection that was ready to burst from every Irish heart and voice.

Mr. Gladstone resumed his seat after speaking for nearly two hours. The close of his address was the signal for prolonged cheering. Sir William Vernon Harcourt proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Gladstone, and Mr. Marley seconded the metion, which and Mr. Morley seconded the motion, which was adopted. Mr. Gladstone made a brief response.

A REMARKABLE CASE. A Woman Driven Insane By the Excessive Use of Cigarettes. CHICAGO, Nov. 8 .- Special Telegram to this morning among the unfortunates who were brought into the insane court. Mrs. Sadie Walters, a well dressed and comely woman, twenty-eight years old, was adjudged insane and will be sent to an asylum. She is the wife of Joseph C. Walters, a traveling salesman. The witnesses in the case were the husband, George Stang, a brother of the lady, and a Mrs. Peterson, a friend of the family. Both the brother and husband testified that in their opinion Mrs. Walters' insanity had been caused by the excessive use of cigarettes. She had been ailing for a year, and about five months ago began to show signs of derangement and on Sunday night last she became violent, and Mr. Stang had her removed to the detention hospital for the insane. In court Mrs Walters was quiet, and she sat in her chair before the jury laughing at the testimony given by her friends. From the testimony in court, and the statements of the husband and brother made subsequently, it appears that about two years ago Mrs. Walters suf-fered from hay fever. She was recommended to try cubeb cigarettes, which she did. From this use she contracted the habit of using the tobacco kind, and the desire for them became so strong that she smoked al-most constantly. Her friends admonished her and tried to induce her to quit the practice, but without avail. When she was brought to the jail a package of the noxious things, nearly full, was found in her pocket

TABLE ROCK, Neb. [Special Telegram to THE BEE. | At 3 o'clock yesterday morning quite a crowd was at the depot waiting for election news, and a quarrel started between James Wheeler and George Purcell. After a few words they clinched and a lively scrimmage ensued. Both were large, powerful men, and it was some time before the crowd could separate them. Purcell had one inger bitten off, while Wheeler was badly out in five or six places, and had to be carried home. It is not yet known whether his wounds will prove serious. James Wheeler, although not a quarrelsome man, had the reputation of being a great fighter, and this is the first time he has been worsted in his many local battles. The quarrel originated

NOT WISELY BUT TOO WELL

Notwithstanding His Bad Luck, the President is Cheerful.

HE HAS NOTHING TO REGRET

Although He Believes His Devotion to Tariff Reform Defeated Him-The Next House Will Undoubtedly Be Republican. Mr. Cleveland's Conscience.

WASHINGTON BURRAU TUROSANA BER, 513 FOURTHENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. S. The usual Thursday cabinet meeting was held at the white house to-day, all of the members being present except Messrs, Dicknson and Vilas, who have not been heard from since the voting day. Very little was talked about at the cabinet meeting but the election, its results and the causes that led thereto. While the gathering was not so jolly as it sometimes is, the president was the most cheerful gentleman present. He had several sly jokes with Secretary Bayard over the less of the democratic senator in Delaware. As one member of the cabinet expressed it, Mr. Cleveland took his defeat like an old gambler. He said that perhaps it was a mistake politically to have forced the tariff issue, but he thought it was time to bring it before the country, and he did not regret in the least having done so. He did not consider it a personal defeat, but a simple question of an issue which the people had determined, he considered, unwisely. He had nothing to regret, would make no changes in his policy and hopes that a tariff reform bill will pass congress before the ex-piration of his term.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

The democrats here now concede a republican majority in the next house of representatives and in the senate, which is an entire overturning of both branches of the government to the opposition. Edward Mc-Pherson, who is better posted than any other person in this city as to the congressional situation, claims a republican majority in the house of sixteen, but the democrats do not concede more than half as many. At any rate there will be a good working majority and a contest for the speakership will commence at once, there being four candidates, Messrs. Reid of Maine, McKinley of Ohio, Burrows of Michigan and Cannon of Illinois. Mr. Edward McPherson will undoubtedly be elected and a new set of officers. THE NEXT HOUSE. edly be elected and a new set of officers chosen. The little state of Delaware is so small that it has been considered impossible for anything to turn around in it, but according to the latest returns the leg-islature is republican and will elect a repubican senator to succeed the venerable Mr. Salisbury, whose term expires on the 4th of March next. There was to be a very hard fight between the Bayard and Saulsbury fac-tions in that little state over the senatorship and it was expected that the secretary of state would retire from the cabinet for the purpose of making a canvass, but he will not be required to do so now. The result in Delaware is so unexpected that no republican has yet been talked of.

HARRISON'S CABINET. Speculation as to Who Will Be the

New President's Advisors. NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- Charles E. Coon, ex-assistant secretary of treasury, in conversation to-day at the Fifth avenue hotel, gave the names of several statesmen who he had no doubt would be selected by President Harrison for his cabinet. He said: "My opinion is that Senator John Sherman will be secretary of state. I have little doubt about it. He is a statesman in the largest sense of the word. and has made a study of the Canadian question. During the next few years we will have to deal with Canada, and naturally General Harrison will desire to have trained nd able statesmen to settle our differences and establish an entente cordiale that cannot easily be disturbed. Senator Sherman, I think, will accept the secretaryship. He has had political honors heaped upon him for years, and has no ambition beyond a desire to help this republic to prosperity and peace. I believe he will be willing to relinquish his seat in the senate which he has so ably filled, to go into the is a safe man, has made a great fight here in' New York and should be chosen."

"Will Mr. Blaine go in the cabinet!" "No. He will, in my judgment, be sent as minister to the court of St. James. He is pe-culiarly fitted to be a diplomat, and will reflect great credit on President Harrison's ad-ministration. Then, too, he will be persona grata' to the English. They admire Mr. Blaine because he is such a staunch and out-spoken American. All talk about Mr. Blaine's being a power behind the throne is nonsense. General Harrison will be president dent in fact as well as in name." Five Men Killed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8. [Special Telegram to Tue Bez. | Particulars of the election day fight at Livingston, Ky., show that five men were killed and one other seriously wounded. The fight began with a quarrel over politics between Champion Mullins, a prominent republican, and John Martin, a government official. Both drew revolvers and began shooting. Twenty other men and began shooting. Twenty other men joined in the fray and a pitched battle ensued. The fight continued a quarter of an hour, when for want of ammunition it ceased.
